ABSTRACT

The third edition of the Woodbridge State School Cottage Life Department Resident Care Guide is explained to be a developmental status scale devised in 1969 as part of a 5-year study for the purposes of measuring the entire population's self-help training abilities. The department is said to serve 954 residents; 424 are non-ambulatory and 530 are ambulatory, falling within the severe and profound level of retardation. The care guide scale is said to be screened and planned in order to fit and meet the needs of the retarded. The scale covers the self care skills of feeding, dressing, undressing, bathing, toileting and basic good grooming. A graph records the increases in self care skills in the residents over a 3-year period. Information for each of the 19 cottages is provided, generally including number of females or males, age range, ambulatory or degree of ambulation, number of blind residents, number of brace wearing residents, extent of wheel chair usage, and number of bed cases. The majority of the report consists of charts with the above information. (CB)

RESIDENT CARE GUIDE

The Cottage Life Department at the Woodbridge State School presents with this edition, January 1972, its third Resident Care Guide. The department serves 954 residents, of which there are 424 non-ambulatory and 530 ambulatory residents, falling within the severe and profound level of retardation. The population is segregated in 18 living units of 53 residents per unit.

The Resident Care Guide is a developmental status scale devised in 1969 as part of a five year study designed to measure the entire population's self-help training abilities.

Further, the care guide scale is screened and planned in order to fit and meet the needs of the severly and profoundly mentally retarded The format of the scale is completed through a check list which can be easily maintained by the Cottage Life Care Staff by means of observation and actual teaching sessions. The scale covers the areas of feeding, dressing, undressing, bathing, toileting and basic good grooming.

The scale gives a descriptive analysis of the population in order to serve the residents according to their own needs. Furthermore, the scale prevents the policy of mass, non-individualized services in the areas of self-help skills. As a resident is rated, time can be allotted for training residents in skills which the child has not yet attained, whereas the other residents who have attained these skills, can and should, in many instances, be given less time to complete them under supervision during daily resident care.

The skills outlined in the Resident Care Guide are basic to the principles of humanization in approaching this level of the resident population. A resident who does not look good, often is not acceptable to those involved with him on a daily basis. This human weakness of unacceptability through appearance without taking into consideration limitations, can lead to mismanagement of resident problems. Since it is extremely difficult to work with many problems in a retarded population without awareness and observation, the guide demonstrates pictorally exactly which children can achieve either the self care, limited care, or total care necessary for their functioning ability.

Again, for this report, the primary source of information was the Head Cottage Training Supervisor who not only prepared the statistics, but developed the program through which the residents could be measured. It should also be noted that all of the residents were programmed similarly, the major variable being the amount and type of reinforcement necessary. This variable not only becomes important when considering the manner of presentation with the individual client and the amount of time spent with the resident to develope the skills noted above. In order to account for individual difference within the population, a grouping pattern for self-help skills was established which differed from cottage unit and from other levels of attainment.

After reviewing this edition, it should be observed that minimal movement can be seen in all levels of self-help care. The chart on the following pages indicates that the movement of skills within this population shows stability in upward movement.

As in the past, two reports, was dependent on the Head Cottage Training Supervisor as the primary source of information. The supervisor was responsible for preparing the statistics and the development of a program through which the residents were measured. A descriptive picture of the increases over a three year period is presented for review on the following page. The areas of feeding and toilet training are recorded on a bar graph. The reviewer in observing the comparison should refer to the opening paragraph whereas, it is reported that 424 residents are non-ambulant. Many of these children and adults in addition to their physical handicaps also have medical problems. Their combined conditions dictate total care for most if not all of their basic needs.

The value of the Resident Care Guide began as an experimental tool in 1969, is now a positive measuring vehicle utilized by the resident living department at the Woodbridge State SChool.
